Main indicators of retail development<sup>10</sup>

Businessmen's evaluations of the factual and expected economic situation give evidence of a serious destabilization. As early as in Q3 2014 chief executives of 51 retail companies gave pessimistic forecasts. However, retail dynamics of recent years did not give grounds to expect such dramatic indicators' decline. The business climate degraded accordingly. According to FSSS (the Federal State Statistics Service), in Q2 2015 the business confidence index came to 2 pp, increasing by 4 pp vs. Q1 2015 and decreasing by 3 pp. vs. Q2 2014. The evaluation of the overall economic situation, according to results of Q2 2015, is by 3 pp better than in the recessional Q1 2009. <...>

Government regulation of retail

The Trade Act

On October 1, 2015, vice Prime Minister Arkadiy Dvorkovich has held a meeting where a necessity to revise the timelines for legislative changes' consideration in the lower chamber of the parliament was discussed. The controversy was examined at the meeting; following the discussion, an assignment was given to develop amendments within a week's time taking into consideration the said discussion. Before the document is accepted in the second reading, retail chains and suppliers should find a compromise as to the bonus scope rendered by the manufacturers to the chains and supplied goods payment deadlines. Moreover, the government stall has not presented its amendments to the project. Remember, in April 2015 The RF Government prepared amendments to the Trade Act and circulated them among all interested parties. The draft does not contain items regarding lowering of suppliers' payments to retailers from 10% to 3% of supplied goods cost. It also does not exclude VAT and indirect taxes from calculation bases for such bonuses. The payment period for supplied goods was not reduced. We would like to remind that such items are prescribed in the draft law No. 704631-6 On Amending Individual Acts of the RF Dealing with Antimonopoly Regulation and Food Security.
